BEHRMAN CAPITAL SELLS ACS COMMUNICATIONS TO BLACK BOX

NEW YORK, NY — October 16, 2008— Behrman Capital, a private equity investment firm based in New York and San Francisco, announced today that Black Box Corporation (NASDAQ: BBOX), a leading provider of voice services, data services, and IT product solutions, has completed the acquisition of ACS Communications, Inc., a fully-integrated technology services company, from Behrman Capital.

Founded in 1985 and headquartered in Austin, Texas, ACS Communications specializes in technology deployments, data center support services, managed staffing, and dispatch services. The company is also a national provider of copper and fiber structured cabling systems, network design, installation, splicing, termination, testing, sustaining maintenance services, emergency restoration and documentation for high-quality, high-speed communications networks. ACS maintains daily operations in over 30 states and has over 400 technicians employed nationwide at many of the world's top companies.

“ACS Communications has established itself as a leading provider of technology services in the southwest with an extensive customer base, most notably as a provider of cabling infrastructure services,” said Grant G. Behrman, Managing Partner of Behrman Capital. “The Company’s rapid growth in recent years reflects the high level of expertise and proven execution that ACS employees bring to the development, installation and maintenance of complex networks. We are proud of the Company’s accomplishments and strong commitment to its customers, and wish everyone at ACS great success as they pursue new opportunities with a global organization.”

“We are pleased to welcome the entire ACS team to the Black Box Family. This transaction will provide worldwide complimentary products and services for all current and future ACS customers. In addition, this demonstrates our desire, commitment and ability for continued growth at Black Box Network Services,” stated Terry Blakemore, President and Chief Executive Officer of Black Box Corporation.

Behrman Capital acquired ACS Communications in February 1999. The Company was an investment of Behrman Capital’s second private equity investment fund, Behrman Capital II L.P.

Patrick Welker, Chief Executive Officer of ACS Communications, said, “Our Company’s ability to execute the most complex national data network assignments for our customers is complemented by the full range of our related services, providing customers true “one-stop” shopping for their network needs. We are excited to be a part of Black Box Network Services and look forward to partnering with them to expand the range of services we can provide our existing customers and working with them to leverage our expertise with new customers in new regions.”
